ABOUT

One place to find out what's on and what's open

Get Out of the House (getoutofthehouse.com.au) is a directory for things to do across Australia. It lists over 125,000 places in 15,353 suburbs and towns, with a day planner, a road trip planner and community events, in 14 languages. It's free to use and free to list. Get Out of the House is operated by Synergized Australia Pty Ltd and is Australian made and owned.

Get Out of the House went live on Wednesday, 11th November 2026 in every state and territory. People search by suburb, town, landmark or postcode, or tap Near me now, then narrow it down by mood. Two planners take it further: a day planner that puts places in order around opening hours, travel time and the weather, and a road trip planner with food, fuel, toilets and things to do along the way.

"We built Get Out of the House because the question every family, retiree and traveller asks is the same: what is there to do around here? Now there's one place to find out, from the big attractions to the little things only locals know about, and it's free to use and free to list."

WHAT IT DOES

Features

Near me, by mood

Search by suburb, town, landmark or postcode, or tap Near me now. Filter by mood: family fun, get active, into nature, rainy day, grown-ups, grey nomads and van life.

Day planner

Pick a few places and it builds the day in order, around opening hours, travel time, the weather and big events nearby.

Road trip planner

Food, fuel, toilets and things to do along the way, sorted by how far off the road they are and whether they'll be open.

Audio guide

GOOTH Plus members hear short stories about the towns they drive through.

Kids Hub

Car games, jokes, colouring, mazes and quizzes for the car, the caravan and rainy days.

Community events

Markets, festivals, carols, school fetes, garage sales and Christmas lights, all in one place.

Council notices

Road closures, works and clean-up dates in the same colours as the Australian Warning System.

Local news

Headlines from verified local media, each linking to the full story on the outlet's own site.

Access details

Step-free entry, accessible toilets, parking and quiet times, so people can search for what they need.

WHO IT'S FOR

Built for the whole community

Families
Something to do this weekend, near home, that suits the kids and the weather.

Travellers and grey nomads
Road trips with food, fuel, toilets and sights along the way, plus big rig parking and dog-friendly stops.

Local businesses
